

Christmas with Sex & the City illustrator Megan Hess

A flurry of excitement descended upon Sydney when internationally renowned illustrator Megan Hess came home for her collaboration with skincare brand Dr LeWinn's. Drawing on her signature style, she has created a series of stunning Christmas gift sets for Dr LeWinn's. Hess has also just completed illustrating Candace Bushnell's series of novels including Sex & the City and Lipstick Jungle.

Celebrity trends in cosmetic surgery

Following his recent trip to LA, Sydney facial plastic and ENT surgeon Dr Michael Zacharia held a brunch for beauty editors where he spoke about the latest celebrity trends in cosmetic surgery and anti-aging medicine. He also discussed new surgical techniques and treatments not seen before in Australia.

A round the world trip with b collection by Bloom

Guests were taken on a round the world trip when Natalie Bloom launched her b collection by Bloom into Target stores this July. Named after cities of the world and with more than 70 shades, the range delivers long-lasting, high-impact colour. Designed exclusively for Target, Bloom wanted to create a quality, on-trend and affordable range, without compromising on quality.

Man-friendly skincare

After five successful years with Sydney men's grooming studio HANKEN, founder Eric Anderson has introduced the market to KIND with relations for men.

Addressing the unique characteristics of male skin conditions and skin sensitivity, the formulation uses Australian bush extracts and naturally derived ingredients and are free from artificial fragrances, colours and mineral oils.

Nougat London comes to Australia

The Nougat London Bath, Body and Home collection was designed to pamper and indulge for an at-home spa experience. The range comes in two signature fragrances, Tuberose & Jasmine and Fig & Pink Cedar. On 8 August beauty editors were invited to try and test the range while enjoying yummy delights of nougat and mini cupcakes.
